

Plots for the simple epidemic

In a simple epidemic, everyone eventually gets sick. The value of β determines how quickly or slowly that happens.

The epidemic curve shows that there is one outbreak, and then there is no one left to infect.

